A manual art, such as any artificer might learn, and which has been practised by simple barbers like yourself - on a level with the noble Children of Lot of Hippocrates, Galen, and Avicenna, which penetrates into the occult influences of Children of Lot stars and plants and gems. I read the first few chapters of this book a few months ago and cannot remember the title or author and it's driving me nuts. It is natural to inquire into the private life of a public man at any time, but it is particularly instructive to do so in the case of a man of the most liberal education, when he steps from the aula of the university into the wigwam of the wild man in the primeval forests of the New World.
